Science-based advocacy. Real results.

Damascus Citizens for Sustainablity is your environmental watchdog.

Make a gift today to help us continue this essential work. Every dollar directly funds our watchdog work—keeping our neighbors informed and our region safe from exploitation.

DCS has been protecting our commmunity for nearly two decades.

- In 2008, we sounded the alarm about fracking threats on the East Coast.
- By 2023, we'd helped secure frack bans across the entire Delaware River Basin & New York State, and successfully fought to keep liquid drilling waste out of our watershed.
- Our Main Street storefront has become a regional environmental education hub. Our award-winning educational materials have equipped countless communities with the tools to fight back.
- Today, we're tackling more threats: from climate-damaging fossil fuel schemes to industrial projects that threaten our health and rural character.

Behind every one of our watchdog efforts are hundreds of hours of coalition-building, research, testimony, and strategic action.

We do not wait for someone else to lead. We step up first and bring others along.

With your support, we can continue to fight to:

Defend the 2021 Delaware River Frack Ban

Pressure is mounting to rescind this ban that protects drinking water for everyone in the Delaware Basin, NYC, and over half of New Jersey. We're monitoring every move and fighting back.

Protect Our Rural Character

We're pushing back against inappropriate projects, like Camp FIMFO, that would fundamentally change our region.

Stop a Sullivan County Incinerator

A proposed "Waste-to-Energy" facility would produce toxic emissions in our literal backyard. We are investigating real solutions to the county's solid waste challenges.

Challenge Regulators When Necessary

We support our ally, the Delaware River Basin Commission, but we've also sued them when they tried to create exemptions allowing toxic wastewater dumping.

Build Regional Power

The River Pledge campaign and collaboration with the Delaware River Frack Ban and Climate Action Coalition, is connecting communities up and down the watershed.

Advance Clean Energy Solutions

We continue to advocate for renewable energy solutions, for our state goverments to cap emissions, and to hold fossil fuel companies accountable.

Expose Data Center Threats

We are advocating against data centers being proposed across the basin. These facilities consume enormous amounts of energy and water while generating noise pollution and health hazards.

Grow Our Education Hub

Our Main Street storefront in Narrowsburg is a weekend destination for environmental education and community organizing. Stop by on weekend afternoons!

This work protects everyone who lives here, visits here, drinks this water, or enjoys food from our region's extraordinary farms.

We Stay Vigilant So You Don't Have To

Only with your support, can we continue being the vigilant watchdog you trust, fighting for our region's future.
